Mortalis: Realms — Support Cards

About this game (context for image generation). Mortalis: Realms is a fantasy card-battle game. Play is divided into 21 realms — distinct factions, each with its own culture, look, and creatures (listed below). Every card belongs to one realm and should be illustrated in that realm's theme and color. The cards listed in this document are support cards (everything that is not a Hero unit).

Card types

Relics — items/equipment a Hero wears or wields: weapons, armor, shields, trinkets, banners. Illustrate as an object.

Hexes — traps. Face-down cards that spring on the enemy (snares, ambushes, curses). Illustrate as a trap or a moment of it being triggered.

Rites, Pacts, and Incantations — all action-type cards (spells / ceremonies / bargains), not physical objects. Rites are slow-building rituals or ceremonies; Pacts are risk-and-reward bargains (often dark or sacrificial); Incantations are direct, one-shot spells. Illustrate as a magical effect, ritual, or scene rather than an item.

The realms (theme / setting for each)

Fangrend — Norse storm-barbarians and their war-wolves — viking raiders who ride the tempest.

Luminar — A radiant holy order of paladins and dawn-knights, clad in gold and light.

Runespire — Arcane magisters of a shattered spell-tower — robed wizards, glowing runes and sigils.

Balemaw — Bargain-binding demons of the Red Gate — infernal fiends, ash, hellfire and dark pacts.

Gildharbor — Merchant princes of a great trading port — coin, contracts, ships and hired guards.

Ankhara — Ancient Egypt — god-kings, mummies, jackals, pyramids, sphinxes and desert tombs.

Karakhorde — A Mongol steppe horde — mounted nomad riders, storms and the endless grass plains.

Deepforge — Dwarven forge-lords — molten halls, anvils, armored smiths and iron war-engines.

Aurelium — Ancient Rome — disciplined legionaries, marble, eagle standards and shield formations.

Oathenhall — Arthurian oath-bound knights — high kings and sworn medieval chivalry, castles and banners.

Zolthec — Aztec / Mesoamerican — sun-priests, jaguar-knights, blood pyramids and eclipses.

Almsgard — A gray mendicant monastic order — humble hooded friars, cloisters and alms.

Thornveil — Wood elves — blade-dancers and shadow-archers of the deep, overgrown forest.

Noctavein — Vampires — a crimson court beneath a red moon, blood, velvet and gothic spires.

Brightmantle — Radiant clerics of the first light — healers with white flame, wards, censers and vestments.

Kessendo — Feudal-Japan samurai — disciplined katana duelists, honor, cherry blossom and lacquered armor.

Drakhaan — Dragon knights — armored riders mounted on great wyrms, dragonfire and scaled hides.

Golmerad — Living stone golems — immovable rock constructs and guardians, moss and granite.

Heliaxos — Greek mythology — monsters and demigods: hydras, medusa/petrification, minotaurs, marble ruins.

Gribrok — Goblins — cutpurse, saboteur and taxman goblin warrens; scrappy, cheap and cunning.

Vhorrath — Necromancers — grave-cults, undead, bone, and reanimated corpses raised from the crypt.
